Honor for Farra.

Lieutenaut John M. Farra, of the Lancaster company, now at Ch'ekamanga, has been detailed as Julge Advocate of the Second Regiment. This position is one of prominence. and John will have many questions of mportance brought before him. Col. The Democratic Convention

A very large crowd attended the oresided. Nothing cutside the usual convention routine was done until the instructions were reached. It was the will of the convention to give the sote of Garrard to Mort Rothwell, but the rub came when the question of a 65 cents, as the price is bound to ad- mittee on organization suggested the second choice was reached. Mr. Rothwell wanted the delegation to go instructed for him, with no second elause tacked on, but some of the Me-Creary men objected and some little on the bushel. lle says that farmers as they are applicable. Amid speech making and the wil lest entisiasm, the greatest Democratic Convention ever held in Central Kentneky adjourned.

Another trainman said he heard a high official say there was a strong probability of the company running the day passenger trains, which now go to Livingston, down this way. JUDGING from the way juries are deciding to hang men, the hempen neck-tie will soon be quite popular in Kentucky. A more appropriate fad could not be sprung.

WE would rather the Americans fifty others in the Spanish army. But it would be hard to decide how to dispose of the old cuss if we had him. Burning at the stake would be entirely too good.

UNCLE SAM is a modest old soul. All he wants for peace is, first, the possession of Cuba and Porto Rico, with a part in the Canaries; second, an indemnity of $240,000,000; third, the retertion of the Philippines as a guarantee of the payment of the indemnity.

A south has been going the rounds of the press to the effect that a Kentucky editor said silver buckles were beconing fashionable on garters, and he hoped to see more of them. His wife sucd for divorce, and the only woman in town who had silver buckles on her garters cowhided the poor editor until he was raw as a potato.

This is looked upon as being important, and shows conclusively that the Maine's death blow came from the outside.

An associated press dispatch from Madrid says that the hopelessness of the war is finally recognized in Spanish official circles, and that the desire for peace predominates in the Cabinet. No hope is entertained of relieving Cuba and l'orto Rico, and the authorities are convinced that the American flect is coming to the shores of Spain

IT has been definitely decided that Commodore Watson's squadron will sail today, Thursday, to carry the war into Spain. The battleship Massachusetts, instead of the Iowa, will be a part of his squadron. If he can drop a few shells into the sittings of Spain's powers who are urging on this war the people of even that God-forsaken country will rise up and call him

Poor old Cervera is entitled to symnathy. llis country ordered him to make the daring dash which cost him the fleet, and now they say his people will kill him if he returns to Spain. The dirty devils have very little sense and no judgment. Cervera is the bravest, and by long odds the best man they have, and if they had any sense at all they would be praising his bravery and obedience.

A YANKEE has at last invented some thing which will be a boon to the lazy man, those too lazy to eat. It is a "bullion capsule," which is to be washed down with water. The capsule melts and its contents, coming in contact with the water, is immediately converted into enough soup to completely fill the taker's stomach. Thus the great trouble of chewing and swallowing is done away with, a lot of work which greatly fatigues some people.

Admiral Cervera said when he left Santiago he knew he was going to certain destruction. Three cablegrams from the Ministry of Marine had or dered him to sea. Then came the fourth-peremptory in tone-as follows: "No matter what the consequences, go to sea at once and fight the enemy." Cervera went, and the rest is known. This goes to show that Cervera possessed one of the chief points needed in a soldier-that of obedience.

ONLY a few deaths have occurred among the soldiers at Chickamanga. When you consider the fact that there are fifty thousand men huddled together there, it is remarkable that d s:ase is kept so well in check. The sanitary condition of the camp is well looked after every day, and but for this precaution fever and various other d seases would soon have full sway. It is said the American is more particular in this respect than any other vessels gave out and Camara turned complies with the last demand for surarmy on the globe.

> COMMODORE SCHLEY certainly played n luck in the big battle with Cervera. Sampson is jealous of Schley and has pushed him aside ever since the war began. But luck would have it for the man who was forced to play second fiddle and the enemy came while "Big Ike" Sampson was away, thus affording poor Schley the golden opportunity of destroying the ships and winning the laurels. The whole layout, from President down, has "had it in" for Schley, but you can't keep a good man down.

PRESIDENT McKinley has refused to would capture old Weyler than any give commissions as second lieutenants to two nephews who enlisted, and the young gentlemen must, therefore, the enemy, remarks the Philadelphia Record. It is a pity that the president lid not manifest the same repugnance to favoritism and nepotism when Senators, Representatives, Cabinet officers, Governors and politicians with a "pull" were pushing upon him sons, nephews and dependants for undeserved military honors. When brought home to him the President, with his popular instincts and love of fair play' recognizes the scandal of nepotism but he should not have permitted in others the practice of an abuse of which he would not take advantage for his relations.

Many Kentucky counties derive large revenue from the bluegrass seed industry, but Mcreer is not one of them, says the Harrodsburg Democrat. There is not as much grass in Mercer eounty as in Boyle, Lincoln, Jessamine and other counties, chiefly because some years ago the farmers broke up their virgin soil to raise corn to meet the needs of the large number of distilleries in Anderson county. These distilleries bought largely of Mercer county farmers, raising the price on corn, and the slop industry took many cattle off of bluegrass, leaving it idle. These distilleries do not now use as much corn as heretofore and grass fed cattle are commanding excellent prices. It is high tim; Mercer county farmers were turning their corn fields back into bluegrass. There is more sure money in it, at present, than anything else.
